YOUNG CHILDREN’S BEHAVIOUR
An adjunct senior lecturer at Flinders University, Dr Louise Porter is a child psychologist with 35 years’ experience of working with children. A sought-after international speaker, she is also the author of many books including A Comprehensive Guide to Classroom Management, Parental Guidance Recommended and Gifted Young Children.
YOUNG CHILDREN’S BEHAVIOUR

Guidance approaches for early childhood educators

4th edition

Louise Porter
PhD, MA(Hons), MGiftedEd, DipEd, BA, BIntStuds
In memory of my grandfather, Norman Verity, who taught me that you are what you read.
And for my grandmother, Florence Kalvina Porter, who demonstrated that the purpose of life is a life with purpose.
Introduction 1

1  Principles of early years education 3
   Early education guidelines 4
   Principles of early care and education 6
   Aims of early childhood programs 17
   Conclusion 22

2  Principles of behaviour guidance 23
   Beliefs 23
   Values 29
   Controlling practices 35
   Guidance practices 37
   Effectiveness of the two styles 40
   Ethics of disciplinary practices 44
   Resistance to abandoning controlling discipline 48
   Conclusion 51

3  Needs 52
   A model of human needs 52
   Survival 52
   Safety and wellbeing 53
   Self-esteem 54
   Belonging 54
   Autonomy 56
   Purpose and happiness 57
Transcendence 59
Needs versus strategies 59
Conclusion 60

4 Understanding emotions 61
Emotions 61
Children’s emotions 61
Emotions and learning 63
Emotions and needs 63
Emotions and behaviour 67
Emotions and gender 68
Emotional intelligence 68
Emotions and thoughts 70
Emotion regulation in childhood 74
Managing anger 75
Coach helpful thinking 77
Conclusion 80

5 Providing a child-centred program: mastery and accomplishment 81
Structural features 81
Program content 86
Teaching and learning processes 88
Routines 98
Group story and song sessions 100
Managing transitions 102
Conclusion 104

6 Meeting children’s basic needs: survival, safety and wellbeing 105
Survival 105
Safety and wellbeing 112
Promoting children’s resilience 120
Conclusion 129

7 Meeting children’s need for self-esteem: competence and worth 130
Self-concept 130
Self-esteem 131
Types of self-esteem 131
Promote competence 138
Promote worth 138
How to acknowledge 142
Responding to children’s disappointment 147
The two faces of perfectionism 148
Phasing out rewards 149
Conclusion 151

8 Meeting children’s need to belong: care and connection 152
Acceptance by adults 152
Peer group acceptance 153
Friendships 153
Social play 156
Methods to meet children’s need to belong 157
Conclusion 170

9 Meeting children’s need for autonomy: voice and choice 172
Autonomy-supportive measures 173
Conclusion 177

10 Influences on behaviour 178
Types of behavioural difficulties 179
Identifying the causes of persistent behavioural difficulties 182
Reactive behaviours 183
External stressors 187
Developmental inexperience 194
Internal influences 195
The ‘attention seeking’ myth 201
‘Testing’ behaviour 202
Conclusion 202

11 Listening to children 204
Conditions needed for listening 204
Judgment 205
Observation 208
Listening skills 209
Roadblocks to communication 214
Listening to children’s anger 219
Conclusion 220
12 Everyday guidance practices 221
Selecting a response 221
Prevention 223
Give positive instructions 227
Make requests 228
Ask children 229
Explain the effect of a behaviour 231
Be assertive 231
Collaborative problem solving 235
Conflicts of values 238
Recovering from conflict 241
Apologies 242
Conclusion 243

13 Supporting children’s self-regulation 244
Methods to coach self-regulation 245
Meltdowns 250
Time in 251
Time away 256
Consistency 257
Conclusion 258

14 Solving persistent problems 259
The solution-focused approach 259
Principles of a solution-focused approach 260
Define the problem 262
Set goals 263
Redefine the problem 264
Examine exceptions 267
Pattern interruption 270
Give up coercion 272
Cope with setbacks 274
Have fun 274
Conclusion 274

15 Solutions to children’s emotional difficulties 275
Fears 275
Separation distress 277
Reunions 280
Bereavement 281

ix
A death in the family 283
Conclusion 289

16 Solutions to children’s social difficulties 290
Social withdrawal 290
Excessive reliance on others 295
Exclusion of peers 296
Aggression 299
Rough and tumble play 305
Super-hero play 306
Telling tales 308
Unwillingness to share 309
Sexuality and gender 310
Conclusion 313

17 Interventions for children with atypical development 314
Delayed or impaired communication skills 314
Supportive measures for children with language difficulties 318
Neuro-developmental disorders 320
Developmental delay 329
Advanced development (‘giftedness’) 330
Assessment 330
Interventions 332
Support parents 337
Conclusion 339

18 Collaboration with parents 340
Styles of interactions between educators and parents 341
Impediments to collaboration 342
Qualities of relationships with parents 345
Cross-cultural collaboration 347
Collaborating with families in adversity 349
Collaborative practices 349
Finding solutions 351
Responding to parents’ complaints 356
Complaints from third parties 357
Conclusion 357
Figures

1.1 The four elements of empowerment 20
2.1 The shape of controlling adult–child relationships 33
2.2 The apparent shape of submissive relationships 33
2.3 The actual shape of submissive relationships 34
2.4 The shape of assertive adult–child relationships 34
2.5 Relative power of adults and children 35
2.6 The controlling style 36
2.7 The guidance approach 39
3.1 A model of human needs 53
4.1 Pathways to emotion 72
5.1 Elements of educator–child interactions 89
5.2 Interactive styles of teaching and learning 93
7.1 Structure of self-esteem (competence) 131
7.2 Types of self-esteem 132
7.3 Uni-dimensional self-esteem 133
7.4 Low self-esteem 135
7.5 Achievement-driven self-esteem 137
7.6 Authentic high self-esteem 138
8.1 Attachment theory 160
8.2 Quality of caregiving 161
8.3 Social orientations according to perceptions of self and others 167
10.1 The trajectory of childhood aggression 181
10.2 Routes to persistent antisocial behaviour 182
10.3 Sources of children’s behavioural difficulties 183
10.4 The ‘dance’ of adult coercion and child defiance 186
10.5 Nutrients needed to manufacture neurotransmitters 200
12.1 Behaviours that are within our coping capacity 222
12.2 Behaviours that overwhelm our coping capacity 222
12.3 Selecting responses to children’s behaviours 224
14.1 Elements of the guidance approach 260
14.2 Steps for revealing solutions 261
17.1 Components of communication 315
17.2 Continuum of neuro-developmental disorders 320

Boxes

1.1 Features of constructivist and traditional education 8
1.2 Developmental benefits of play 13
1.3 Learning dispositions 19
2.1 Differences between the controlling and guidance styles 39
2.2 Outcomes of the two discipline styles 41
Index

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3.1 Human needs</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.2 Values</td>
<td>57</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.3 A child’s purpose</td>
<td>58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.4 Spoiling</td>
<td>59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.1 Feelings in response to fulfilled needs</td>
<td>63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.2 Feelings in response to unmet needs</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3 Emotional abilities</td>
<td>68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.4 Examples of thoughts and feelings</td>
<td>73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.5 Victim words that masquerade as feelings</td>
<td>74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.1 Qualities of the environment</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2 Adaptive functioning skills</td>
<td>86</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.3 Strategies for instructional support</td>
<td>90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.4 Characteristics of two styles of instruction</td>
<td>92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.5 Disadvantages of a preponderance of teacher-directed instruction</td>
<td>93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.6 Packing away equipment</td>
<td>103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.1 Fussy eating</td>
<td>107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.2 Managing sleep times</td>
<td>110</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.3 Signs and effects of child abuse</td>
<td>114</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.4 Signs of stress in children</td>
<td>121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.5 Some relaxation activities</td>
<td>124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.6 Actions during investigations of alleged abuse by educators</td>
<td>127</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.1 Characteristics of children with an authentic high self-esteem</td>
<td>133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.2 Judgmental versus compassionate styles</td>
<td>139</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.3 Distinctions between praise and acknowledgment</td>
<td>141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.4 The risks of public praise</td>
<td>141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.5 Tips for acknowledging children’s achievements</td>
<td>145</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.6 Examples of praise and acknowledgment</td>
<td>147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.7 Summary of the benefits of acknowledgment</td>
<td>149</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.1 Benefits of friendship</td>
<td>155</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.2 Development of social play</td>
<td>156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.3 Not attached to attachment theory</td>
<td>159</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.4 Some cooperative games</td>
<td>163</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.5 A debate about the ‘You can’t say You can’t play’ rule</td>
<td>166</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8.6 Prosocial skills</td>
<td>168</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.1 A tale of a spirited child</td>
<td>184</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.2 Oppositional defiance disorder (ODD)</td>
<td>186</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.3 Signs of fetal alcohol syndrome</td>
<td>191</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.4 Effects of poverty on children</td>
<td>192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10.5 Signs of inflammation affecting the brain</td>
<td>197</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11.1 Attitudes to developmental versus behavioural errors</td>
<td>206</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11.2 Translating enemy images</td>
<td>207</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11.3 Steps for giving empathy</td>
<td>209</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

xiii
11.4 Listening to children’s physical pain 211
11.5 Tips for reflection 212
11.6 Useful reflective phrases 213
11.7 Colloquial ways to reflect needs 214
12.1 Differences between demands and requests 228
12.2 Trusting children to know their own minds 230
12.3 Differences between listening and assertiveness 236
12.4 Responses to conflicts of values 239
12.5 Swearing: An example of a conflict of values 239
12.6 Telling lies 242
13.1 Common unhelpful thinking patterns of children 246
13.2 Naming Doomsday thinking 247
13.3 Toilet learning 248
13.4 Translating denials of accountability 250
13.5 Occasions to use protective force 254
13.6 Tips for responding to children’s meltdowns 254
14.1 Problem solving versus solution building 260
14.2 Questions that elicit descriptions of the problem 262
14.3 Using scaling to identify a solution 263
14.4 Reframing ‘deliberate’ misbehaviour 265
14.5 Questions that unlock solutions 265
14.6 Questions that identify exceptions 267
14.7 Questions that identify strengths 269
14.8 Examples of pattern interruption 271
14.9 Changing the sequence 271
15.1 A letter to someone special 288
17.1 Indicators of speech or language impairments 316
17.2 Learning difficulties associated with attention deficit disorders 321
17.3 Signs of sensory integration difficulties 323
17.4 Teaching adjustments for children on the autism spectrum 332
17.5 Information sought by parents of children with disabilities 338
18.1 Sample welcome letter to families 350
18.2 Questions that recruit parents’ expertise 353
18.3 Questions to ask when parents are despondent 354
18.4 Questions that identify parents’ resilience and coping skills 355